"We Didn't Want To Do It—"

Something happened in connection with the last special town meeting that might become a rather unfortunate precedent. We had the unusual situation of the Chairman of the Board of Public Works rising to make a motion under the William Street Drainage article which the warrant said was "on petition of the Board of Public Works", and then immediately thereafter speaking more or less against the article.

What happened was that a private citizen had wanted an article in the warrant and had started to gather the one hundred signatures that are necessary for inclusion of a private article in the special town meeting warrant. The selectmen felt that he would get them anyway, and therefore, asked the Board of Public Works to put the article in under their sponsorship, thus eliminating the necessity of getting the one hundred signatures. This the Board of Public Works did "reluctantly", the quotes being the selectmen's.

We can't feel that the Selectmen should have asked the Board of Public Works to do this, nor can we feel that the Board of Public Works was sufficiently reluctant. We can't see any group of men putting their names to something that they're against.

The law says that one hundred signatures are necessary.

Maine Man Elected Principal Of Andover's Junior High

Milton H. Nelson of Westbrook, Maine was elected principal of the Andover Junior High school at a special meeting of the School Committee Thursday evening.

Mr. Nelson is a graduate of Gorham, Maine State Teachers' College, and of Boston University. He holds the degree of Bachelor of Science in education and Master of Education. He has practically completed his requirements for a Doctor of Philosophy degree, having been on a sabbatical leave during the past year while studying at Boston University.

From 1936 to 1939 he was principal of the Junior High in Westbrook, Maine. From 1939 to 1942, he was assistant principal of the Forest Street school in Westbrook, and from 1942 to 1946 he was principal of the same school. He is 34 years old.

Three candidates were re-interviewed Thursday evening, Mr. Sukeforth, Mr. Lunt, and Mr. Nelson. In the previous week's balloting, Mr. Sukeforth had led. The final vote was seven for Mr. Nelson, with Dr. McTernan voting for Mr. McKinley and Mr. Doherty voting for his brother, Joseph Doherty. The salary was set at $4,000, the present principal receiving $4100.

Mr. Nelson has spent some time in Andover looking over the High and Junior High organization here. He has been informed by the committee that as soon as certain legal technicalities are taken care of, the two schools will be unified under one head, provided that future school committees feel the same as the present committee does.

Ballardvale Minister Submits Resignation

Rev. Arnold Kenseth, pastor of the Union Congregational church in Ballardvale for the past four years, has announced his resignation to become effective September 1, when he will become director of the Christian association and minister to Protestant students at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst.

A graduate of Bates college and Harvard Divinity school, Rev. Mr. Kenseth was formerly curator of the Harvard college library poetry room, instructor at Boston and Cambridge Centers for Adult Education, instructor of Bible at Abbot academy, instructor of English and philosophy and dean of Cambridge Junior college. He was ordained as a minister in the Congregational church in November, 1944, and the Ballardvale church was his first parish.

His writings have appeared in The Atlantic Monthly, the Harvard Educational Review, Poetry: a Magazine of Verse, American Prefaces, Contemporary Poets and Christendom.

Why not follow the law? Wouldn't it be possible in future special town meetings for any single individual to come before the Board of Selectmen for a special article and then have the Selectmen ask some Board to endorse it to get around the signature requirement? It has rather serious possibilities. It would be best to let the William street article be the only exception.

Hope For The Future

We now have a new Junior High school principal. On paper he looks good, but no school committee can ever elect a teacher or a principal without having his fingers crossed pretty tightly. Experience will tell, and for the sake of our children, we certainly hope that Mr. Nelson will prove to be all that we now think he is.

Education has everywhere become a little too superficial. There hasn't been enough of the hard, down-to-earth knowledge imparted, nor has there been enough emphasis on many of the important things in life, such as manners, habits, etc. We look to Mr. Nelson to do a good job for our Junior High students. He's coming to a town that is keenly interested in education, a town that's really grateful for a job well done, a town that we hope will not let lethargy stand in the way of undoing something if it proves not to have been the right thing to do.

This Symbol...

MEANS BETTER SERVICE — BETTER LIVING — FOR YOU

When you flick an electric switch or turn on the gas you expect... and rightly... to find service ready and waiting for you... right on the dot. It's our job to bring it to you... instantly, efficiently, and at the lowest possible cost. But to do so, nowadays, takes a lot of skilled people, a lot of equipment, a lot of money, and a lot of behind-the-scenes study. In short, it takes teamwork!

And that's where this symbol comes in! It stands for the "New England Electric System" of which... along with a group of other New England electric and gas companies... we are a part.

As local companies, each of us works to bring our own customers the best possible service. As a group, all united for a common purpose, we pool our collective "know-how", work together in emergencies and whenever a particularly tough problem comes up. Such teamwork, of course, benefits every company in the System, including our own.

And what does all this mean to you, as one of our customers? Just this. It means that as improvements are made, as ways are found to operate even more efficiently... the benefits will be passed on to you.

Ninth Grade Final Assembly Theme Devoted To Life Of Stephen Foster

The final ninth grade assembly whose theme was the life and music of Stephen Foster was presented Monday morning in Memorial auditorium. Students of the seventh and eighth grades filed into the hall and remained at their seats until the class of honor had taken its place.

The program unfolded the life of Stephen Foster, and the pictures illustrating scenes from his well known songs and a portrait of the composer, featured on the stage, were all drawn by members of the ninth grade. The performers gathered in groups or moved out to the piano according to their roles, and the entire stage picture (our front cover) was very effective.

At the close of the program, awards were made to the ninth grade students with Superintendent Kenneth L. Sherman making all presentations except the D. A. R. medals, which were given by Mrs. Gordon Currier, representative of that organization.

Milton C. Blanchard, principal of the Junior High school, presented the class of 1950 to Pynchard Principal Eugene V. Lovely, whose acceptance speech was brief and to the point.

BE ALIVE ON THE FIFTH

The biggest traffic jam in the nation's history will occur during the Fourth of July weekend holiday this year.

To meet the threat of a record-breaking traffic accident toll, motorists and pedestrians should adopt "Be Alive on the Fifth" as the keynote of a nationwide campaign against accidents during the holiday.

Close to 30,000,000 vehicles are expected to pack
the highways over the Fourth of July, and their speedometers are expected to lick nearly four billion miles during the three-day holiday. This estimate is based on gasoline consumption, which shows mileage this year exceeding even the previous record level of pre-war 1941.

Eight thousand, three hundred persons died from accidents of all kinds in July, 1946, and as usual the Fourth of July celebration contributed substantially to that figure.

This year we have many dangerous factors — a three-day holiday, increased mileage, relative prosperity.
It adds up to a big celebration — and a big pile-up of dead and injured — unless we all make it our business to do something about it.

We can do something about it, because these tragedies result from things we can control — haste, selfishness, thoughtlessness, the desire to show off.

Practice Safety on the Fourth. Be alive on the Fifth.

WHERE TO GO...AND WHEN

Donald and Dora Duck were entertaining this week and are so delighted with the role of host and hostess that they're skipping around their yard on tip-toe, with wings outstretched, in an ecstatic dance. Their guests are two of similar breed and they are spending a week while their keepers are vacationing elsewhere.

The newcomers were greeted with deep raspy squawks and shown about the place in a friendly and hospitable manner, the dishpan of fresh water, the bowl of pellets, the corner where bits of delectable clover and dandelion greens are often thrown. Everything was as chummy as could be until the visiting drake started shining up to Dora. Courtesy rolled off Donald's back as quickly as the water he loves to be splashed with and he descended upon the home-wrecker with hostility flaming from his round eyes.

It must be admitted that he showed great sportsmanship. Instead of tearing into his opponent, he challenged him to a duel, and after crossing bills, the two of them retreated, charged and retreated again until their anger died down and they decided to call the whole thing off and go have a drink. They're getting along fine now and have agreed upon a truce whereby neither one encroaches upon the other's territory.

All of which seems to prove that Donald is undoubtedly a drake although a so-called authority passed judgment that he wasn't. There seems to be no question in Dora's mind!

ANDOVER WELCOMES SALLY BODWELL HOUGHTON, WHO WILL RE-OPEN "FIELDSTONES" ON FRIDAY

Good news to local diners-out, who remember with gustatory longing the delicious foods served at Fieldstones in pre-war days when Miss Sally Bodwell was the proprietor is the announcement that "Sally," now Mrs. Leon Houghton, has re-purchased Fieldstones and, with Mr. Houghton, will re-open under combined management on June 27.

The former Miss Bodwell first opened Fieldstones on June 24, 1937, and her second opening is as close to the tenth anniversary as circumstances would permit. During the 5½ years of her proprietorship, the excellent reputation of Fieldstones became nationwide, and residents as well as hungry travelers through our town always headed their cars down the Reading road when they wanted to be assured of a filling and delicious home-cooked meal.

Since leaving Fieldstones in the fall of 1942, Miss Bodwell has been managing a large industrial cafe at the Whittin Machine Works in Whitinsville, Mass., and since she was contributing to the war effort, Andover resigned itself to giving up one of its most treasured peace-time luxuries, dinner at Fieldstones.

The establishment has been under several different managements since that time, but none has quite equaled the popular appeal that Fieldstones under Sally Bodwell enjoyed. She plans to continue the buffet service that was a Sunday favorite on week-days as well in a modified form from noon to 2:00 p. m.

We extend a most cordial "Welcome Home" to Sally, and best wishes for continued success! See you at Fieldstones!

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bradford have moved from Main street and are residing with their son, Edward, and his family in Wrentham, for the present.

Orchid Exchange

Gardeners who have experimented with rare and beautiful flowers now have an opportunity to try their skill in orchid raising from seed to bloom, winter or summer, and in their own homes.

Down in Ecuador, in South America, there is a growing colony of North Americans who are creating a veritable paradise out of a lovely lush wilderness, and these people are in need of small packets to send an ordinary ten-cent of vegetable seeds. They ask you packet of seeds of any food plant and in return they will send you a packet of orchid seeds and instructions for propagation by return ship mail.

The colony has an experimental station with headquarters in Quito, capital city of the republic, and your contribution of vegetable seeds will help these colonists to have more food plants. Your reward will be the packet of orchid seeds that should bring a bit of the exotic beauty of the tropics right into your parlor. Merely send your seeds to: Director, South American No. 1, Botanical Experimental station, Casilla 2220, Quifo, Ecuador, South America, and if you mail them by air mail, allow about six weeks for the arrival of your orchid seeds. However, if you send them via ship mail, allow two to three months for the arrival of your orchid seeds with the growing instructions.

TAKE YOUR EASE

There's a flyer's expression that says: "You're born with Luck, but it gets used up as you go along." Your health can get used up, too. Especially now, in vacation time, when it's so easy to overdo things. Over-exertion—too much tennis, or golf, or swimming can be injurious to your health — can ruin your most precious possession. So before starting out for the country or seashore—why not see a doctor and get a complete physical check-up. Don't play with your health—you certainly can't play without it.

Returning from the Ford Motor Company's first post-war general business meeting in the Northeastern Region held in New York City for Ford and Lincoln-Mercury Automobile Dealers, Mason F. Arnold, manager of the Shawsheen Motor Mart, revealed that Ford made automobiles in 1948 will embody changes as "Drastic as the switch-over from the Model T to the Model A." Forecast of these changes was made by President Henry Ford II to more than 2000 dealers and dealership executives from 10 northeast states who attended the meeting at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel. Changes in the 1947 line of cars must remain a trade secret for competitive reasons. Mr. Arnold quoted Mr. Ford as saying that "only a few key company officials know when the new models go into production."

AT THE LIBRARY . . .

Summer Hours

Beginning July 1 and running to September 1 the Memorial Hall Library will observe its regular summer hours. The main reading room will be open as usual, 9:00 A. M. to 9:00 P. M. on Mondays, Friday and Saturday. The other days it will close at 6:00 P. M. The Young People's Room will be open daily 9:00 A. M. to 12:00, and 2:00 P. M. to 5:00 P. M. every day Monday through Friday. On Saturday the room will be open 9:00 to 12:00 only, and closed every Saturday afternoon.

Notebooks On Exhibit

The exhibit of note-books on South and Central America, made by the pupils of Miss Mabel Marshall's Social Studies classes of Grade 7, are still on exhibit in the Young People's Room of the Memorial Hall Library. The case is now filled with the second half of those sent down from the school, and is an interesting picture of the excellence of the work done in this recent project. The books contain news items, maps, pictures, book reviews, summaries, studies of life in South America, etc. Among those whose work is on display are the following students: Edward Dean, Anne Sanborn, Joan Pearson, Robert Savage, John O'Connor, Jean Farrell, Carolyn Erler, Priscilla Tompkins, John Winfield, Carolyn Ward, Judy Maddock, Charles Schulze, Elizabeth Barrett, Frances Junlavy, Nancy Penwell, Barbara Polley, Ruth Weamer, Catherine Anderson, Elleen Skeirik, Joan Hewitt, Janet Thompson, Raeburn Hathaway, Roberta Johnson, Jack Wright, Marion Noss, Bartley Miller and Virginia Lees. The books will remain on view for a few days longer.

New Radio Series

A series of thirteen programs of literature for boys and girls, presented over WBZ-WBZA on succeeding Monday mornings from 9:15 A. M. to 9:30, between June 30th and September 22, 1947, will be called "Books Bring Adventure." The programs are presented by the Division of Public Libraries, the New England Committee on Radio in Education, and the Round Table of Children's Librarians of the Massachusetts Library Association. The purpose of this series is to stimulate boys and girls to read good books and to use their public libraries. The books have been selected that emphasize the pioneering spirit of the old world, that developed into new worlds with new ideals and new ways of living. Here are some of the highlights from 700 years of such adventuring, as brought to life in books written for young people. On June 30th, the first book chosen is "Falcon, Fly Back" by Elinore Blaisdell, and is adventure in a castle in France. Anne de Hauteville, the heroine, lived in a castle in Medieval France. This is her search for her pet falcon and of her meeting with an ancient gypsy queen in the forest. All young people are urged to listen in at home to this and the succeeding programs.

Story Hours At The Library

A special summer series, each Wednesday in July, will be held at the Library and all young people are invited to attend to hear some of their favorite stories told by Miss Lane, the Young People's Librarian. Each Wednesday morning, at 9:30, which will be July 2, 9, 16, 23 and 30th, the group will hear stories, after which there will be a "Library" game. All are welcome!

New Books

New books at the Memorial Hall Library include the following titles:

The Rug and Carpet Book O'Brien
Every person who means to buy a rug—Persian, American or European—can profit from this book. After reading it you will not confuse fashions with sound style, you will have a sense of quality versus price, and you will know your rights in the field of auction-room or dealer's domain!

Antioch College Henderson
The president of Antioch College attempts to explain why the college is a departure from the set-up of most colleges today, and what this difference means. Here is a book that proves that the effort to make education a real thing to benefit the individual, to help him organize his life for greater living, is a proven success.

Boston, Cradle of Liberty Jennings
Exciting early years of Boston's history—witchcraft, privateering, smuggling, rum and slave running, Captain Kidd, Paul Revere, Bunker Hill, etc. From Winthrop's landing in 1630 to the British evacuation in 1776 are reviewed all the fascinating always new old details of Boston!

Report To Saint Peter Van Loon
The author's sub-title reads "Upon the kind of world in which Hendrik William van Loon spent the first years of his life." This covers the early years of what was meant to be a record of van Loon's entire life. The author died before putting his fragment into perfect shape, but it has much of the charm of all of his work.

Evolution of the Dutch Nation

Vlekke
Dr. Klekke shows the slow up-building of the Dutch people from the genesis of their nation through the unifying of their provinces and the Golden Age when Holland dominated the seven seas, through the absorption of the Low Country into the French Empire of Napoleon, the rebirth, the secession of Belgium and the progress during the past hundred years when the Dutch have penetrated the farthest corner of the earth—to the day when the German invasion brought out the superb courage of the people in their fight for survival.

Book Reviewing Drewry

The Dean of the Henry W. Grady School of Journalism has written this common sense guide for those who wish to review books. It is also valuable information for all who want to get more enjoyment out of their own fiction reading.

Jim Crow, America

The author, although not a Negro, runs the New York office of the "Chicago Defender." He treats the impact of the Negro on labor questions and Negro leadership in politics, problems of segregated housing and education with a frank and informed authority.

Oil For Victory Look (periodical)

Petroleum in war and peace as it is told in remarkable photographs of the almost superhuman effort made to supply our war needs with this precious commodity. A running comment accompanies the photographs.

Soul of Lodestone Still
The background of magnetical science from the days when almost every nation made mention of the magic lodestone mountains which drew the nails from ships that came near them. Here are the uses to which this magnetic substance has been put; the compass, an agent in healing, a magic charm and a means of understanding some of the secrets of the planets. New England Power Changes It's Name To New England Electric System

The name of New England Power Association, long a familiar one in this community, has been changed to New England Electric System as part of a plan of corporate simplification recently completed, it has been announced by William E. Casey, manager of the Lawrence Gas and Electric Company. The local company for many years has been associated with the New England system.

New England Electric System is made up of a group of electric, gas and transportation companies which provides services to 227 towns and cities in the New England area. It is the largest electric and gas utility system in New England, with operations in all the New England states except Maine.

Mr. Casey states that the local company will continue unchanged its present method of operating, with the same employees, many of whom have been with the company for 20 years or more, supplying customers in this area with the same quality of service they have been getting in the past. "One of the most important features of the simplification plan," he concludes, "is that while it streamlines and simplifies our system's operations, it enables us at the same time to retain our present method of doing business which has proved so effective here and in other communities served by system companies."

A series of competitive games and sports was enjoyed with prizes for the winners. Hot dogs were roasted, and refreshments of tonic and ice cream served. Prizes and advancement badges were awarded by Scout Executive Harvey H. Bacon, Neighborhood Commissioner Dean Burns of the Lawrence District and Walter C. Caswell, Andover District Commissioner. Details of the field day will appear in a future issue.

Approximately seven or eight scouts are going to Camp Onway and others will be working or vacationing.

Fifteen scouts have already registered for Camp Onway from the Andover District, generally for at least two weeks. There are many others going, and they are urged to get their registration in as soon as possible, so that there will be no disappointments as to the weeks at camp desired. Priest Wins Fame in Dramatic Productions

Rev. Bernard J. Kane, formerly of Andover, and now pastor of St. Agnes church in Reading, has been acquiring fame as a dramatist and director, and has been broadcasting a series of dramatizations of well-known personalities over station WESX on Sunday evenings. The programs are presented under the auspices of the archbishop.

Next Sunday night's program from 9:30 to 10:00 will portray the human and less-known facts of the life of David I. Walsh given against a background of appropriate music. The Postmaster's association of the state plans to sponsor a reproduction of the program by transcription over several Boston stations.

Father Kane has also directed and revised script of the Lambs, a theatre group in Reading, and recently put on "Joan of Lorraine" which met with great success. Another of his successes was "The Late George Apley" presented in the New England Mutual hall in Boston. All performances under his guidance have been "sell-outs" and the radio programs in which he himself appears have been highly praised by critics.

The Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway bus, driven by James O'Sullivan of Lawrence, was coming out of Picadilly lane on Haverhill street, when it was struck on the side by a Buick sedan operated by Samuel Pamaia of Lowell. Both the driver and his daughter Marilyn were treated at the Lawrence General Hospital for injuries. The sedan was towed away for repairs, but the bus was able to move under its own power.

Punchard Notes

By Jack Sherman

Closing

Last week we published a short article about the school closing which is now official. The students have dispersed to their various summer jobs, or to their places of summer loafing (notably Happy Hampton) and Punchard has seen another school year come to a close. A new one starts September 8.

Summing Up

Well, the year has come to an end, and now that it's over, we'd like to acquaint you kind people that have suffered weekly through this column with a few facts. First this is the 38th piece in this year's series, and we've covered resignations, appointments, triumphs, and whatever else we could glimpse through the key-hole. During this year our baseball team played in the Tech tournaments in the Boston Garden, we came in second in the Merrimack Valley Baseball League, and we lost the football game to Johnson. But to add to our prestige, we had an unusually high percentage of our people go to college, thanks to our excellent Guidance Department. All in all, we've had a swell year, and we wouldn't have missed it for all the tea in China. Let's hope that next year will be just as full, and in the meantime, all of us at Punchard wish our parents and friends a happy summer.

Aboard Astoria

Stanley J. Peremba, carpenter's mate, second class, son of Mrs. Marie Mitchell has returned to the United States aboard the light cruiser U.S.S. Astoria, after participating in the Pacific Fleet's war games.

The Astoria is operating out of San Diego, Calif.

Graduates

William C. Ferguson received his bachelor of arts degree recently at the commencement exercises at Colgate university. An English major at Colgate, the local navy veteran was active in school activities. He was a member of the Pan Hellenic Council, the Fraternity Governing Board, was on the staff of the Banter and Maroon campus magazine and newspaper, and played on the tennis team his first two years at the university. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ferguson of 64 Chestnut street.

Miss Nancy Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Harrison of Chestnut street, graduated June 12 from the Children's Hospital School of Nursing in Boston. A graduate of Dana Hall, Wellesley and Abbot Academy, Miss Harrison has served on the hospital staff since completing her training.
